HEAVY HAUL INSTITUTE, DFCCIL, NOIDA

30TH APRIL 2025

MESSAGE FROM GM/T&R

This month has been truly action-packed at HHI, filled with enriching training sessions and exciting events. Our staff and trainees actively participated in the Sports Meet 2025, conducted by DFCCIL. Founder and chairman from IISC also visited HHI, followed by discussion on railway technology. We were also honored to have officials from the World Bank visit us, further strengthening our ties with global institutions.

In addition, HHI successfully conducted its first-ever O&M, S&T course and RGM training, setting a new benchmark in our commitment to excellence in training. We were privileged to welcome distinguished guests, including the MD, Director/Infra, and ED from DFCCIL, as well as officials from Vandana International Pvt Ltd.

Our trainees also had the opportunity to visit OCC Ahmedabad and the field station, gaining valuable insights from theory to practical. Amid all the professional growth, we also organized "Run for Fun" and Shramdan activities, fostering a sense of camaraderie and social responsibility.

I would like to extend my heartfelt thanks to all the staff and trainees for their participation and enthusiasm in making this month successful. Together, we continue to build a brighter future for HHI.

Col. Mayank Upadhyaya
General Manager/Training & Research

PYGMALLION EFFECT

In Sports: A coach believes a player has the potential to be great, so they provide extra training and encouragement. The player, motivated by the coach's belief, might improve their performance significantly.

In Everyday Life: If someone believes they will have a bad day and act accordingly, they might start noticing minor inconveniences and escalate them, confirming their initial belief. Conversely, if someone believes they are capable and will succeed, they are more likely to strive for success.

BIKESHEDDING EFFECT

Project Kickoff: The team spends the entire first meeting arguing over what to name the project, instead of discussing timelines, stakeholders, or deliverables.

Email or Communication Style: Staff might endlessly debate the right tone or word choice for an email or message, while overlooking critical communication strategies that could improve collaboration or streamline internal communications.
