During his address, he emphasized on the theme of this year "My Vision – Corruption Free India" which is the direction of the Government and also the need of the hour to make the India corruption free. He also described on the transparency which is required in all spheres such as for contractors, PMC as well as for executives He also observed that corruption is a factor which hampers the country's progress. He reiterated the significance of transparency in procurement & contract award.

MD also intimated that position of India has improved in transparency in compared to last year and emphasized on the transparency for all stack holders in order to improve the position of India globally. The role of vigilance and its necessity in an organization was also described by MD/DFCCIL with examples of suggesting system improvements as a result of preventive vigilance.

8. Address by Sh. Shailender Singh, Chief Technical Examiner/CVC

During observance of vigilance awareness week-2017, Sh Shailender Singh, Chief Technical Examiner/CVC addressed the gathering of DFCCIL officers on the issue of Public Procurements, quality in execution and role of PMC & DFCCIL in regards to the quality of work.

In his opening speech, Sh Shailender Singh emphasized on the theme of this year vigilance awareness week “My Vision – Corruption Free India” and stated that to achieve this objective, it is necessary to have policies & procedures which are robust enough and are not prone to be misused, misinterpreted or manipulated for the individual gains then it will be able to achieve this objective. Like every organization in the Government, DFCCIL also must be having their own policies & procedures in place which are framed to deal with the nature of transaction of business in the corporation. As DFCCIL is dealing with mega project, which is time bound & is to be completed in reasonably high speed so must have such robust policies & procedures.

In regards to the appointment of consultants, Sh Shailender Singh has stated that appointment of consultants should be need based and in transparent manner. He emphasized on the matrix decided which should be broad based, detailed & very objective to select the consultant on the technical competence giving very high weightage in the selection process (QCBS based selection system).

Sh Shailender Singh also gave few real example related to selection of consultants during his speech.

In regards to DFCCIL, Sh Shailender Singh has stated that the magnitude of the project is very high, the assignment is challenging so the consultant & its team which is going to be deployed on the project must be of requisite qualification and experience so that the interest is best served. While framing the matrix for judging the technical competence of the consultant firm, one should be little alert to make it more objective, detailed one and matrix itself should speak the requirement of job.

In regards to the role of employer in these types of contracts (FIDIC contracts) of high magnitude, Sh Shailender Singh has clarified that it is well within the right of Employer to supervise the work of PMC and it totally depends upon the environment, where the instances of compromises are more than the instances of good work which can be sighted, Employer is required to be little more alert. It is upon Employer to devise a mechanism to check the work of PMC whether PMC is doing the duties as per contract's terms & condition or not.

Speaking on the occasion, Sh Shailender Singh, Chief Technical Examiner/CVC also described the role of Employer in regards to the quality of work in detail during his speech, he invited the participants for any queries with free feelings. CTE replied the quarries raised by the participants on the issue of estimates and test check on quality of work.
