3. To say the least, the interpretation given by the Additional Director (Panchayati Raj) is based on total misunderstanding, misconception and mis-interpretation of the provisions of the Right to Information Act.

4. Once a party has died, his death certificate cannot be termed a 'Third Party Information', as that information relates/related only to the deceased. Therefore, it is not understood how this could be termed to be a third party information so as to claim exemption from disclosure under third party information, as contained in Sections 8(1)(j) & 11 of the Act, which reads as under:-

"Section 8(1)(j)-information which relates to personal information the disclosure of which has no relationship to any activity or interest, or which would cause unwarranted invasion of the privacy of the individual unless the Central Public Information Officer or the State Public Information Officer or the appellate authority, as the case may be, is satisfied that the larger public interest justifies the disclosure of such interest:
