Applicant Name		Bimal Kant Patel
Text of Application		Here are some of my queries regarding recruitment policies of the organization: 1. In the open market recruitment for the post of Executive(Operations & Business Development), what is the policy of the organization regarding selection, if at the final stages of medical tests a candidate is found to be having ear drum perforation in both the ears? 2. Are the candidates recommended for the job or not? 3. If the candidate is deemed temporarily unfit, is the candidate granted a second chance for medical test if the condition of the candidate is treatable? 4. How much maximum time can be given to the candidate to get his/her ear drums operated and reappear for the medical test? 5. If the candidate is recommended for the job after getting deemed fit in medical test, and the training for the above job has already started for other candidates, what is the policy for training such individuals?
