I. OPERATION & MAINTENANCE OF SUBMERSIBLE PUMPS

1.0 Testing:

The operation and routine maintenance of submersible and other pumps and other following tests are to be conducted as and when required will be done as per direction & instruction of DFCCIL representative.

1.1 INSULATION TEST:

Connect one lead of a megger tester to the rising main and the other lead to the red core of the motor cable. A reading of 2 Mega ohms or more indicates that the motor winding, cable and cable joints are sound. If the reading is less than 2 Mega ohms, the fault is either in the wiring or the pump is locked by sand or other foreign substances.

1.2 DIRECTION OF ROTATION TEST:

Check the above-ground wiring against the wiring diagram. Test the operation of all the aboveground electrical equipment's, with the motor cable disconnected. If the operation of the equipment is normal, reconnect the motor cable, close the gate valve and reopen it three quarters of a turn only. Switch on the motor. If the overload release device trips or other fault occurs, it is an indication that cable connections are wrong or the pump is sand blocked. Try to reverse the direction of rotation for about three seconds only. If the pump still does not start, it must be raised to the surface to be cleared of obstruction.

If the pump is sand locked, recheck the level at which the pump suction is set. The pump suction and motor base must be in the solid casing (pump housing) and not opposite the well screen.

1.3 OPERATING HEAD TEST:

Close the gate valve at the surface completely. Check the pressure gauge reading, ammeter reading and the distance gauge from the center of the pressure gauge dial to the water level in the well. Compute the total head by adding the pressure gauge reading and the distance dial to the water level in the well.

The total head obtained should be approximately the same as expected.

1.4 AIR LOCKED TEST:

Close the gate valve at the surface completely. Check the pressure gauge and ammeter reading. Check the line voltage in all the phases while the pump is in operation. If the discharge from the pump is into an elevated reservoir or tank separate the pipe system at the ground level immediately after the gate valve at the ground surface, and check the meter current and discharge rate obtained at this point. A lower than normal reading of line current without any discharge at all will show the air locked pump. An increase in discharge and motor current will prove that the trouble is in the system beyond the gate valve and not in the pump or system below ground level.

1.5 LOW DISCHARGE TEST:

Close the gate valve at ground surface for a sufficient long time, to check the ammeter and pressure gauge reading. Check the water level in the well. Calculate the closed valve head developed by the pump. If this value is considerably less than the design total head, while the ammeter reading is higher than that specified by the manufacturer on the test sheet, the existence of following faults confirm.

Mechanical friction in pump or motor

1. Riser pipe developing a hole or leak developing in the system below the ground level.
2. The pump being worn by sand, there is an increase in mechanical friction.

1.6 PUMPING RATE TEST:

A. The test procedure to test whether the pumping rate greater than the rate of recuperation of well will include closing of the gate valve at the surface completely and then opening on turn only. If the trouble is corrected this proves that the pump discharge is too high for the yield of the well.

B. If the trouble persists; close the gate valve further, a small part of a turn at a time, until the trouble ceases. Leave the gate valve stem. Remove the gate valve handle to prevent authorized interference.

2.0 OPERATION OF SUBMERSIBLE PUMPS

Before operating the pump, the direction of rotation is checked. To ascertain the correct direction of rotation, let the motor run in both directions with the stop valve closed. The direction of rotation is changed by interchanging two of the phases. The pressure gauge will show different readings for the two directions. The direction which gives the higher pressure is correct one. When running freely, the correct direction of rotation can also be judged from the amount of water pumped.

2.1 STARTING AND INITIAL RUN:

The pump is started with sluice valve closed or slightly open. During the initial run, it is checked as to whether the pumped water is clear or muddy and whether any impurity is being pumped. If the water contains sandy or gritty particles or the impurities, care is taken not to stop pumping, otherwise the particles will settle inside the pump and on top of the non-return valve (if fitted), and may choke or seize the pump. The pump must be run with valve fully open (at not more than 40% discharge), until the sand content falls. The valve is then opened slowly to its full extent. Pumping is continued in this manner until it is possible to pump with a fully-open valve, without pumping excess sand. Generally, the permissible limit is up to 25 grains of sand per cubic meter of water (0.001 percent, on volume basis, or 0.0025 percent by weight). When the pumped water is clear, the pump may be stopped and restarted as required.

2.2 SHUT-DOWN PERIODS

The pump should not be allowed to remain stationary for more than 14 days at a stretch as, otherwise, lime, iron and other substances tend to settle in the bearings and impeller gaps and block the pump rotor. If operating conditions require the pump to remain stopped for a longer period, it should be started and allowed to run for at least 5 minutes once every 14 days and preferably once every 8 days. Only then the pump will be ready for instant resumption of service at anytime.

3.0 COMMON CAUSES OF BREAKDOWN OF SUBMERSIBLE PUMPS

The most common cause of breakdown of submersible pumps is the burning of motors. The following are the common causes of burning of the motor.

3.1 Uniform Burning of Motor Winding Due to Formation of Insulating Layer:

If the temperature of the winding exceeds the maximum allowable limit, it may result in the burning of the motor. This is generally caused by formation of an insulating layer around the motor surface, due to silt or grit gathered on the motor frame. The burning in this case is uniform. Whenever the motor is taken out, the surface should be cleaned and repainted before lowering.

3.2 BURNING OF MOTOR DUE TO OVERLOADING

A power overload occurs when the pump requires more power from the motor than the rated motor. Such a situation could lead to the overloading of winding, thus burning the motor.

Power overloads can occur if the pump is run far away from the duty point specified on the pump and motor. In the field, such conditions normally happen if the assessment of total head to be developed by the pump is not made properly. To avoid this, the motor selected should have adequate output.

3.3 BURNING OF MOTOR DUE TO VOLTAGE FLUCTUATION

Submersible motors are designed to function without any problem, in the voltage range of $\pm 10\%$ of the rated voltage. When the voltage exceeds the limit, the output of the motor increases, leading to overheating and burning of the winding. It is always advisable to have a voltmeter and an ammeter fixed on the switchboard as near the motor as possible. Necessary action could then be taken, in case the variation in voltage is more than the permissible limit. It is safer to have a motor of horse power about 10 to 15 per cent more than the rated power for the pump, so that some overload can be sustained. In case of fluctuating voltage conditions, a 3 phase voltage stabilizer should be provided.

3.4 BURNING OF MOTOR DUE TO SINGLE PHASING

Single phasing of the motor is frequent in the field. In most cases, the missing of phase can also be due to malfunctioning of the switch gear. Inadequate capacity of fuses can also lead to this hazard. Further, single phasing can occur due to damage of the power cable. This can happen at the time of pump installation. Great care must be taken to avoid any damage or bending of the cable at the time of installation of the pump set.

It is recommended that economy should not be considered in the choice of switch gear for quality and capacity. It is always advisable to have a single-phasing presenter installed with the pump set.

3.5 BURNING OF MOTOR DUE TO EXCESSIVE NUMBER OF STARTS

The starting current of all motors is much higher than the current required for normal running. Consequently, if the number of times the pump is started is high and in quick succession, the winding will not have time to dissipate the heat developed in starting and will overheat. This will weaken the insulation and result in the winding burning. The permissible switching frequency depends on the motor horse power. The maximum switching allowed is 20 times and 15 times an hour for motors up to 5 hp, and 7.5 to 100 hp, respectively. If the motor does not start to run and build up to full speed as soon as it is switched on, it must be switched off immediately and should not be started again until about 5 minutes have elapsed.

3.6 BURNING OF MOTORS DUE TO ELECTRICAL DISCHARGE

Electrical discharge can occur between winding and earth or between turns. The cause can be direct sparking or accidental jumping of current from one conductor to another. The contact between winding and earth, due to defect in insulation of the wire or puncture of the wire at the time of winding, could also cause the damage.

3.7 WRONG REPAIR AND REPLACEMENT

The spare parts used in the repair of motor, starter and pump may be improper quality and Capacity, which may cause burning of motor due to non-matching of characteristics. The parts replaced should be genuine, purchased from authorized dealers of reputed manufacturers. In addition to burning of submersible motor, the following are the other causes responsible for Breakdown of submersible pumps:

a) Damage to motor and pump:

The submersible pump and motor until is aligned by manufacturer or in repair workshop. Rough handling in transportation and carriage to the site of installation may cause misalignment which will be noticed only after lowering of the unit. Misalignment may cause vibrations leading to damage to motor and pump parts, and overloading of motor resulting in the burning of the windings. The motor and pumps should be assembled and checked for free movement in the shop, and packed in wooden containers of six matching the equipment. The box should be carried carefully to the site and should be opened only at the time of lowering.

b) Heavy fine-Sand Pumping:

Submersible pump will provide long service life if the sand content of the water is limited to 28- 40 ppm. With sand pumping, the service life of the pump is reduced drastically. Sand in water damaged the rubbing surface of the neck ring and impeller and cause more clearance. Too high a clearance result in high vibrations which reduce the discharge and overload the motor. Vibrations disturb the motor alignment and ultimately burn the motor.

c) Loose and Electrical Column pipe:

A loosely bolted and non-rigid column pipe to which a submersible pump is attached can cause vibrations in the whole system. These vibrations will ultimately damage the pump due to misalignment and lead to the breaking of motor or its burning.

Flanges and other types of joints must be properly matched and tightened with an ordinary nut and a check nut. The pipe should be kept at the center of the housing and on one side.

d) Fallen Pumps and Motors:

The falling down of pumps and motors is due to vibrations, and faulty repair, i.e. non-replacement of worn studs and water hammer. Fishing is easier with a fallen pump than a detached motor. For fishing the fallen motor, the manufacturer should be asked to provide a mechanical clamp from the bottom of the motor to the discharge nipple over the non-return valve, which can be attached to a wire rope. This wire rope should be brought up to the top of the well so that in case of an accidental fall, the motor can be easily pulled out. This will not only save the motor but well itself because, many a time, the well is abandoned because of the failure to fish out the motor.

e) Seizure of Pump or Motor Bearing

Seizure of the pump bearing can result when the pump runs dry. This can happen due to a fall in water level during summer or over pumping of the tube well. The pump can be safeguarded from dry running by installing a pneumatic water level indicator, observing it periodically and extending the column pipes to cater to situation of falling water, if required.

3.8 DO'S AND DONT'S FOR SUBMERSIBLE PUMP

DO'S:

1. Do ensure that motor is filled with adequate quantity of clear, cold water before coupling to the pump.
2. Do ensure that no air is trapped while filling water in the motor.
3. Do avoid sharp bend to cable.
4. Do ensure that pump set never touches the bore well bottom.
5. Do ensure that the pump set is at least 3m above the mud accumulated in well.
6. Do ensure that in case of extreme urgencies, disassembly should be carried out only by trained mechanic with proper tools.

DONT'S:

1. Do not fill distilled water in the pump.

2. Do not connect water filling plug to tap.
3. Do not run motor without water even for short time.
4. Do not pull power cable.
5. Do not use any gasket between pump and motor.
6. Do not tamper with important assembly setting like axial play of pump and motor.
7. Do not use vice to hold the motor, use 'V' shaped wooden hooks.

The Checking and maintenance against this item shall be carried out in line with Maintenance Manual/Approved drawings/Specifications of DFCCILs with its latest correction slips if any as per instruction of DFCCIL representative.

J. Maintenance of RO with water cooler

R.O. System 25 LPH output capacity - All in all repair & maintenance of Reverse Osmosis system including replacement of all components/parts e.g. Pump, Membrane, Filters, Power Supply, S.V., F.R., Housings, PVC connecting pipes, Water sensors, UV lamps and any other parts of Machine etc. as required. The job includes servicing of all the machines quarterly and also as and when required on receiving the complaints or as directed by Engineer in charge.

1. Daily check & operation of water cooler.
2. Cleaning of water tank once in a month.
3. Checking of water leakage from water cooler & if there is water leakage rectify the same.
4. Check & ensure proper working of water cooler daily.
5. Maintain record & submit to concern Engineer In charge.

The Checking and maintenance against this item shall be carried out in line with Maintenance Manual/Approved drawings/Specifications of DFCCILs with its latest correction slips if any as per instruction of DFCCIL representative.

K. Maintenance of Solar panels

Once a fortnight the surface of the panels should be wiped clean with wet rag to remove dust, fallen leaves & bird dropping etc. Only water to be used and no other cleaning agent for cleaning. In addition maintenance of Secondary battery of Solar Panel is required on discretion of Engineer in-charge. Still general periodical maintenance of battery should be carried out. For efficient working of SPV system certain precautions are to be observed as given below.

1. Precautions and Preventive Steps Please ensure that:
 - a) SPV Modules are connected in parallel and SPV Panel output voltage is less than 25Volts under normal sunshine condition (for 12 V System/Module).
 - b) All connections are properly made tight and neat using the crimped Red (for +ve) and Black (for -ve) wires supplied by the manufacturer in order to avoid reverse connection.
 - c) The rating of the fuse in the charge controller is not changed.
 - c) The SPV Panel is installed facing SOUTH and with the correct 'Angle of tilt'.
 - d) There is no shadow on any part of the SPV Panel at any time of the day, to get maximum power.
 - e) SPV Modules are protected against any act of vandalism and accidental strike or hit by heavy objects, like stone, hammer etc. If the SPV Panel is installed on ground, it must be fenced properly to protect it from cattle and to prevent from any damage/theft.

Fencing should be made in such a way that no shadow should fall on SPV Panel at any time of the day.

- f) Battery Bank is placed on a rack or platform insulated from ground and located in a well-ventilated room and also sufficient clearance is there over the battery.
- g) First the Battery Bank, then SPV Panel and then Load is connected to SPV Charge Control Unit and for disconnection reverse sequence is adopted.
- h) Battery terminals are never shorted even momentarily as shorting will result in heavy spark and fire. (To avoid the same, connect the cable at Charge Controller end 'First' and then Battery end.)
- i) Never connect the Load directly to the SPV Panel as SPV Panel may give higher/lower voltage than required by the Load Equipment and hence the equipment may be damaged permanently.
- j) Blocking diode is provided at the array output for protection against reverse polarity.
- k) Make sure that the Solar PV module gets direct sunlight throughout the day where you install it.
- l) The Green indicator on Charge controller is only an indication for charging. It will glow even at small amount of charging. So to ensure efficient charging, the availability of direct sunlight over the Solar PV module for the maximum hours of the day should be ensured.
- m) It is not heat but light that produces energy. So let direct sunlight to fall on the module surface without shades.

The Checking and maintenance against this item shall be carried out in line with Maintenance Manual/Approved drawings/Specifications of DFCCILs with its latest correction slips if any as per instruction of DFCCIL representative.

L. Maintenance of other E&M items:

In addition to above listed items, any other E&M Electrical items required for maintenance as and when required or on discretion of Engineer in-charge at the mentioned locations.

- M. If available, Material will be provided by DFCCIL for Maintenance wherever required. In case the required materials are not available or not sufficient, the contractor may proceed with purchasing items. The decision of DFCCIL for purchasing items will be final and binding.
